Oxford County Advertiser.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6, 1886.

(Entered as Second-Class matter.)

There has been a new post-office established at Camp Caribou, R. Storey, postmaster.

John B. Redman has been confirmed as collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Maine.

Samuel J. Allen died at Graystone, his residence on the Hudson, Wednesday morning, at the age of 72 years.

The Fall term of Bridgton Academy begins Tuesday, Aug. 11th, with the same corps of teachers. This is one of the best of college fitting schools in this section. With such schools as this and its moderate charges there is scarcely any excuse for a young man of average ability to whose time is his own not obtaining something of an education.

The combined New England and Eastern Maine fairs which are to be held in Bangor, Aug. 31st and Sept. 1st, 2nd and 3rd, promise to be one of the greatest exhibitions ever held in the Eastern States. Large entries from all the New England States have been made. The premiums and purses are open to exhibitors from the Maritime Provinces and a field of twelve to fifteen Provincial thoroughbred horses will compete in the great running races. The entries of trotting and exhibition horses have also been made by our provincial neighbors.

In addition to the usual trotting and running races, arrangements have been made for various sports, including polo, croquet, baseball, &c. The fair grounds have been enlarged, and all who desire to camp out will find excellent accommodations in the grounds. Free excursion tickets on all railroads and steamboats during the week of the fair.

EAST ANDOVER.
Mrs. Augustus Dresser and children, of Salem, Mass., are visiting her parents here.

Maudie Blaisdell is teaching school at the Falls.

Mrs. Emma Jones, of Windham, Me., is visiting her mother and daughter in town.

The mill has been shut down nearly a month for want of water. The water is now running, and the mill is again in operation.

The last party of fishermen that went from this place to Rockport Pond caught an unlimited supply of herring and clams, and had a general good time.

A. E. Bell sold a very nice Singer sewing machine in this vicinity, last week.

LOCKE'S MILLS.
I called at Dudley Cottage last Friday and found a very pretty and good looking company of boarders. About twenty persons had been this season. Some have come to the house, some to the mill, and about twenty remain. A lot more are to come this week. Dudley Cottage is situated at the head of Rockport Pond. There are three ponds within sight of the house, where there is good boating and fishing. The cottage is about a mile from Locke's Mills depot, Mount Auburn House and the post-office. Good teams run from the house to all points and convey boarders to and from the depot free of charge. The Cottage is a handsome structure, well furnished and equipped. New arrivals at the Cottage: Mrs. Cooper and two children, of New Orleans; Mrs. J. H. Sullivan, of Chelsea, Mass., first season; I. A. McKenney and wife, third season; Miss M. J. Hurd, of Chelsea, Mass., first season; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Sweetser, of Ottawa, Ill., sixth season.

I called on W. H. Parsons who lives near the cottage. He has large grounds with many kinds of fruit, such as apples, pears, plums, strawberries, raspberries and various other fruits. Mr. Parsons informed me he had picked and marketed 500 quarts of raspberries so far, and I see the berries are still doing well. There were two ladies picking, who I was informed, could pick about 25 quarts each, per day. The berries are marketed to Portland, where he receives 10 cents per quart.

The best looking watermelon I have ever seen is the one which was picked at this place. It is a specimen of the variety called "Black Wonder" and is a specialty.

ANDOVER.
Rev. Alfred Donald and wife of Haverhill, Mass., also her sister, Miss Mary and Minnie Ray of Rumford, have been spending a few days with their aunt, Mrs. D. H. Newhall, at the Newhall farm, near Bangor, Aug. 24th for dinner last night.

The little son of Charles Scammon has been sick with lung fever. Last Saturday night they did not expect him to live from one hour to another. He is now quite well again.

Hiram Abbott of So. Andover got badly hurt last Thursday evening, while driving a moving machine. He mounted the machine again and moved about one hour not thinking of his hurt. He was taken to the house, where a physician was called and it was ascertained that he was hurt internally. He is now very well.

New potatoes in the market at 25¢ bushel.

Alfred Gregg of Cambridge, Mass., is visiting relatives.

Miss Watson, of Philadelphia, who is boarding at the Cushman House, was seriously bitten by a dog belonging to Judge Hardy. When the dog was notified of the fact he refused to bite, and immediately shot. Charles Cushman was the assassin.

L. F. Jones informs us he was taken suddenly sick with lung fever. He is now quite well.

Walter Small, Albert C. Bolster and Henry Rollins were in town, had pleasant trip up to Gratton Neck fishing one day last week. They caught nearly five hundred trout.

Some farmers are first in hay. Alden Chase is always the first on the list. A few report their crop as equal to '85, while many estimate they have cut several tons less.

EDDS FALLS.
Mrs. Ellen Sanden and son Percy are here from Balltown at the old home during the warm weather.

Farmers in this vicinity have finished haying with the exception of a few intervals.

Charles Floyd has returned home from Haverhill.

Mrs. James Cook is visiting relatives at South Windham.

GILEAD.

S. A. Collins and crew were laying at Bethel last week.

M. F. Conner is repairing the old homestead buildings.

J. W. Bennett, a worthy merchant and lumber dealer, is away on a trip to Montpelier, Mich.

Nora Burkett closed her school here again this week. She has been a teacher for several years.

Below is a list of scholars not attending during the term—Percy Everett, Olin Lary, Gertrude Hammon, Florence Jones, Manie Lovell and Willie Kimball.

Mrs. A. W. Bennett and Sam. Wheeler are added to our sick-list this week.

George R. Hammond is building a house at Norway for Thomas Dunham.

Hattie Downs, of Portland, is at Mrs. George Ripley's.

Some of the farmers of this vicinity are through haying, others are nearly through.

Mrs. Ella Dowley Hammond, who died at her mother's home, July 26th, will be much missed by her friends. She was highly respected by all who knew her, and truly loved by her friends and acquaintances. She leaves a husband, a mother, two brothers and a sister to mourn her loss.

NORTH ROCKFORD.
We are having considerable sickness just now.

Mrs. Rosanna Tuttle, from Auburn, who was visiting in our place, was taken very sick at her sister's, Mrs. Bisbee, a week ago. She had a shock, and her health is not recovering.

Mrs. Tuttle is just alive. Her son and his wife, from Auburn, with whom she lives, are taking care of her. The neighbors are all very kind in helping them.

Mrs. Sophia Spaulding is not so well. Mrs. Heath remains about the same. Mrs. Ladd is able to do her work again. Aunt Arvilla Record says she has not seen feeble for 16 years.

Mrs. Calista Swallow is in very poor health.

Rolon Foster, wife and son, from Auburn, are staying a few weeks at J. A. Warren's. Mr. Foster is in poor health.

Mrs. Mrs. Orrill and children, from Sumner, have been visiting the past week at Mrs. Foster's. Her sister, who has gone home with her to stay a week.

Mrs. Almada Carey, from Salem, Mass., is at her father's, John Cressey.

William Heath and wife returned to Lincoln the 31st.

Samuel Keith, from Mass., has been visiting at Mrs. Heath's.

SOUTH WATERBURY.
There is an entertainment at Village Hall this Thursday evening, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc., by local talent assisted by Mrs. Anna St. Clair Mayhew, of New Brunswick, N. J., and others.

The refreshment party, by the pink refreshment party. The evening's entertainment will close with a social dance.

This village at last presents quite a lively appearance, being well supplied with summer company. The "Fine Grove House" is full, as is A. Noble's house, in which he is entertaining a party from Chelsea, Mass. Among the guests are Tent, Esq., and family; two gentlemen from Portland, Mr. Grout and Mr. Jones, and a family from Chelsea, Mass. E. F. Wood, of Hyde Park, Mass., and two children, are with their parents at the house.

Mr. H. Brown, of New Brunswick, N. J., the deservingly popular educationist, is spending a few days with the Misses H. Brown, who are here, who is the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad at Hotel Car Conductor, and George Hamlin, the employed by the Portland Palace Car Co. as conductor, are in town to spend their vacation. They are proving themselves experts with the fly and bait by capturing large quantities of flies from "Lake Thom." The Misses Young have friends from Portland visiting.

H. F. Procter is preparing to commence the manufacture of boxes soon. And with increased facilities for the new addition to his mill, will be enabled to supply the market more advantageously than heretofore.

Joshua Moore, who has received notice in these columns several times as being remarkable in the degree that his mental faculties and vigor of manhood were retained by him, is now, we regret to say, in failing health, caused by a combination of troubles, prominent among which is a disease of the heart.

Services were conducted at Village Hall on Sunday, p. m., last, by O. A. Bonds, (Unitarian) of N. Y. The Rev. H. E. Gilchrist, formerly supplied the society here, when located at Bridgton. His sermon was last Sabbath's high spoken.

Notice was given that services would be held at the same place next Sabbath, at 10 o'clock, a. m., and the time has been changed to 10 o'clock, p. m.

WELCHVILLE.
The Harper Company have just received a large lot of wool.

PARIS GREEN WHICH THEY OPENED.

The color looked so pretty to them that they threw it up to see it blow about and when discovered they were pretty well covered with the green, but they didn't happen to get poisoned.

Mrs. W. H. Morrow has lost seven of her flock of turkeys by a fox.

Maud Morrow has been of great benefit to her father through haying. She has driven the horse to most of the haying, and some days raked over two acres in one afternoon.

Meetings at the church every Sunday. They are well attended.

OXFORD.
The farmers are now about finishing their haying. They report an increase over the crop of last year, while the more northerly portions of this county denote a fall off owing to the early drought and the season being later. Joseph Robinson's two farms is judged produced about 180 tons. Good crops and gardens are coming forward very rapidly, promising an abundant yield. We notice a very sensible improvement in farm stock throughout this section within the last few years, no doubt owing to the importation of fine blooded animals. Cyrus T. Wardwell showed us some very fine thoroughbred and grade horses of large size and very sound. Some of the fine horses of the county are equally good and many others scattered through the section. The most of the offspring of the well known thoroughbred bull, "Careful," owned by Captain at the South Hiram church Sunday.

EAST HERBON.
Farmers are finishing haying. A large number finished a week ago.

Crops are looking finely and growing rapidly. The hot days and dry winds seem to have changed in all vegetation. Corn is looking and gives promise of a late harvest.

At the late horse trot at Canton Star Gazer owned by Jason Russell again came out victorious.

Alvin Record and his son Joseph from Norway, N. H., spent last week at Sumner visiting and fishing.

A. I. Record caught seventeen fine pickers in a few hours one day last week.

N. L. Keene dug and marketed in Lewiston fifty bushels of potatoes last week, netting him forty-eight dollars.

Sheriff J. W. Whitten has read the summons to a few young men in this vicinity to appear at the October term of court on a liquor case.

Charles Keene is sick, fever is apprehended.

Cyrus Sweet's health has improved for the past few weeks. He is now able to be out.

Blueberries have been brought in abundance from the west and of a most good keeping, the matrons busy preparing them for winter use.

The list of visitors remaining in this vicinity is Mrs. G. D. Hatch and family from Lynn, Mass.; Carrie Curtis from Lynn; John Allen, Granville Allen from N. Y.; Gilbert Roberts from St. Paul, Minn.; J. R. Record from N. J., and the Misses Fuller from Boston, Mass.

BUFFIELD.
Dr. C. B. Brigham was able to walk from his house down to the village last Monday. He is coming out of his injury all right.

Blueberries are very plenty at six and seven cents per quart.

Rev. S. B. Chase of Methuen, Mass., preached in the Baptist church last Sabbath. Subject, "The little that has made the five loaves and two fishes which Jesus took and fed the multitude with." It was an interesting sermon.

C. D. Bradbury, Jr., arrived in town last Monday night.

First blueberries in the market was sold at ten cents per quart.

We saw some sweet corn which was very good. It was raised by Uncle Daniel Russell of Sumner. Uncle Dan always gets a little before the rest of the town.

We saw in J. W. Shaw's store last Monday this year apples that were ripe, so years that were mellow and nice and last year masses that looked fair and handsome.

The Foster family started for the beach last Sunday. The high school will be in full force, commencing Aug. 31st. Mr. Pratt is the best teacher that we have seen in this village. His wife will probably board with Mrs. H. F. Vose near the school-house. H.

EAST YERU.
Al. Griffin has the finest barn full of hay in this section—some 20 tons. He sells his hams at $2.25 an average price. Mr. Hersey, our drover, buys them.

E. C. Poland is carpentering on the Washburn mansion at Livermore. The house is being put up with many late improvements. Twenty-five boarders are stopping at the Oxford House waiting for the school to be finished.

The thermometer ranged 94 in the shade Aug. 1. Good hay weather for days.

Blueberries are expected to be done this coming season.

Blueberries are said to be thick on Spectled Mountain. Black Mountain has been visited by our neighbors, yet, as they haven't got through haying.

Eugene Holman shows us some very fine honey from his Italian Black bees. He saw a few round boxes. This he besides what he has. W. B.

RUMFORD.
Waldo Pettengill cut the grass last week on the Dana Kimball farm with a force of men in four days. Two mowing machines, two horse rakes, four horses, one yoke of oxen and from six to nine men were employed.

W. W. Stevens is making extensive additions to his store at the Corner. When finished it will be one of the finest stores in the county.

Charles Dwight Elliot arrived home from Montana the 28th. He is meeting with good success we are pleased to hear. He is now visiting his family here, when located at Bridgton. His sermon was last Sabbath's high spoken.

Notice was given that services would be held at the same place next Sabbath, at 10 o'clock, a. m., and the time has been changed to 10 o'clock, p. m.
